A message from Mark . . .

Crikey – where do I start, last week we played Western Suburbs reserves in what turned out to be a game for the spectators. Plenty of goals, some great attacking play and some sloppy defending from both sides and to top it all off a bit of feisty ness towards the end. Our defence has been one of our strongest parts of our game this year and for one reason or another it let us down and we conceded a whopping 5 goals.

This is no means a criticism of the back 4 alone as I have always said we start defending from the front and work our way back from there. Hopefully this was just a blip on the radar and we can get back to our miserly best over the weekend. In saying that though there were plenty of positives as well, we scored 4 great goals and it could have been more. The spirit the team showed to come back 3 times and nearly a 4th when we hit the cross bar in the 97th minute.

This weekend will certainly test the squad as today we welcome Paul, and the undefeated (on the field) Petone side and their supporters. Paul has certainly got a talented squad and has got them playing very well. Having spent ten years at Petone, I know how hard they work at getting things right both on and off the field and know they will be hurting from last year's performance. A wounded team is always very tough to beat but I'm sure we won't be lying down for them as there is nothing better than winning against your former club.

A message from Mark . . .

Then on Monday, thanks to the Queen for letting us have the day off work, we welcome Richard, Lance and the Tawa team for a Chatham Cup match, in hope to continue the dream. We only played Tawa two weeks ago at Redwood Park in which turned out to be a very tight affair, ending 1 apiece. Let's hope it doesn't end that way today otherwise we will have to play another 30 minutes and then possibly penalty's, which I'm sure the spectators will enjoy. What I'm sure of though is that we have learnt a lot from that encounter and will hopefully put this into practise and put the game to bed in 90 minutes.

To add to the difficulty of these games, Petone & Tawa are tighter than Sam Rausch and have the best defences in the league, only conceding 8 goals in 9 games, we will have to be at our very best to break them down to get the rewards that we want.

Both games stack up to be crackers for their own reasons, let's hope we end up on the right side of the ledger and keep up with the leaders and keep the cup dream alive!

Look forward to catching up with you in the club after the games, remember to shout for the orange, it certainly does spur the team on!

Sam Rausch – celebrating 100 games

Today marks a very special day for Sam who is playing his 100th 1st team game for the club

Sam made his debut in 2009, with 1 start and 3 sub appearances with 0 goals scored.

Sam was part of the successful team that got promoted to Central league from the 2012 season, playing in all 18 games and play off matches, and scoring his second goal for the club. Sam had a couple of years away from the game due to a serious knee injury and was unavailable for the 2013 / 14 seasons.

Sam re-joined the club in 2015 and has been a constant member of the team since and has added to his scoring prowess as recent as last week taking his tally to 4!

Confeds Cup: Senior pros raise standards . . .

Two of the All Whites senior pros Chris Wood and Tommy Smith were in action today for the first time on the team's tour of Ireland and there was a noticeable shift in intensity.

Wood, the Golden Boot winner with Leeds United this year in the England Championship, and Smith, a key man in the All Whites defence in the absence of skipper Winston Reid, are both players who naturally lead by example.

Kosta Barbarouses, who has made a return to the All Whites after missing the March international window with the World Cup qualifiers against Fiji, said the experience Wood and Smith offer is invaluable.

"They both bring a load of experience," said Barbarouses, who has played 37 internationals for New Zealand. "Woodsy is coming off a great campaign where he just missed playoff contention [with Leeds United in the Championship] and he scored a load of goals.

"Tommy has been involved in the set up for a number of years now and I have known Tommy since he was 13 or 14 years old. They are both really great players and the more [players like that] we can have in the squad the better. They definitely add quality to the squad." Deklan Wynne, who was recently promoted to the first team of the Vancouver Whitecaps in the MLS, echoed those comments and said the standards lifted a notch today.

"Everyone knows they are quality players so when they get here everyone goes up a gear," said the 22-year-old South African-born Kiwi. "Most of all everyone is training hard because they want to get into the starting XI for Friday." Barbarouses is looking forward to the prospect of pairing up with Wood up front and adding to his three goals in internationals for New Zealand.

"Playing off a guy like Woodsy is great because even when the ball isn't perfect in the air, or even along the ground, he does a great job of getting it under control. Running off him makes my job that little bit easier, having someone like that as a focal point."
